

DextDee

Call me DextDee, Dex for short.

I am a chinese based Music Producer/Director with a personal company by name "License To Cut Productions" I currently work with Bloc Networks, a Norweigan based internet company.

It all started when i had the feel of creation as my creativity level expanded, and i chanced upon music. I always listened to tracks and i am like, "they could have played it this way" , and it all happened from there.

The first program i used was FL Studio 5 demo. and i remember re-creating Ja0Rule's Newyork track. and it went on till my latest track now.

Aside music, i have lots and lots of other social life. I am a medical student as well, a sport man (long jump, High jump and Tripple jump) and many other interesting things that unleash the life in me!

When one listen's to my beats, they are never that simple, it mostly has many elements running thru it. This is because i make the beats like they are songs on their own, but if someone wants to Rap or sing on them, they are always modified to suit them.

I have this idea that music genre in engulfing itself, meaning rock is now entering rap/hiphop, techno has found it's way into electronic music, blues has changed the scene of RnB. I won't wait till people realize it, i will take them there myself, so most of my tracks are mixed, and never go off alert, for something may surprise u.

If u need to buy any of my track, please feel free to contact me :)

Finally, I am glad i found this wonderful website (mixposure.com). I say big Ups to the makers and all members here.

DextDee

For additional information visit our profile on Mixposure.com
©2013 Mixposure.com